Spout Spring, as a commercial centre, rivals many towns three or four times as large, and it is daily improving. Its principle trade is with the surrounding community. No other town in the mountains of Kentucky, where there is no timber upon which to obtain means of support is half so thrifty as ours.

Spout Spring is situated in the wealthiest, (to the number of its inhabitants,) and best improved portion of the mountains of Eastern Kentucky; the land, at its present rating, affords better opportunities for one with a small capital than that of any place we know of. Our citizens are sober, honest, industrious and contented; Her churches are numerous; her schools plentiful and good. Upon whole, there is no land better favored than ours. As an evidence of this fact, we ask all that are acquainted in our town and surrounding community, to point out an instance where our citizens are guilty of any serious crime or misdemeanor.

Perhaps there is no better commendation of THE TIMES than that our list of subscribers, who get their mail at this office is 3 times greater than the total population of the town.

A LIVELY FOX CHASE.

On Monday, John W. Dawson came over from Clark county, bringing along seven hounds. These and a number of hounds owned by Messrs. Troy Pucket and Simp Hall, made one of the liveliest fox chases experienced in this community for some time.

They succeeded in running 3 foxes into the cliff.

Our motto: a home made paper.

A supply of seed oats at Burgher's.

Go to W. R. Cassidy's, Clay City, for clothing.

G. W. Lewis bought of W. E. Heflin one 5 yr. old red cow at $30.

BORN--To the wife of John Bernhet, Tuesday, March the 31st, a boy.

A line of stylish and durable shoes for men, women and children at W. R. Cassidy's.

B. F. Wright sold to G. W. Lewis 5 two year old cattle that would average about 500 pounds each, at $12. per head.

A supply of seed oats at Burgher's.

Use MOUNTAIN LILY flour

There has been a right smart touch of winter the past few days.

A new stock of clothing just received at W. R. Cassidy's.

Win. Jackson and Geo. Kinsaid have leased the boundry of land belonging to the K. U. L. Co., about 2 miles east of town.

Owing to so much bad weather the farmers are considerably behind with their spring work. There are but few oats sown yet, and scarcely any land for corn ploughed.

W. E. Heflin bought in town Tuesday a supply of poultry, consisting of two hens and one rooster, and is building a house for them. He says he intends to market many hundreds of dollars worth of poultry the coming season. Success to you Will in your new enterprise.

At the pleasant home of John Barnett, on last Thursday night was a delightful candy pulling. Quite a number of young folks were there, and all report a jolly time.

A certain young man in this town was very badly disappointed last Sunday. Never mind young man she no doubt wanted to see you but would not have you go out such a rainy and bad day as last Sunday was even to see her.

PERSONALS.

J. W. Webber, of Iron Mound, was in town Thursday.

Mrs. Dena Dawson, of Chilton, is the guest of her parents, Mr. Mrs. W. J. Barnett.

Miss Nannie Snowden, who has been very dangerously ill for some time past, is at present no better.

James Proir, of Fox, was in town last Saturday, and like all other good citizens, subscribed for THE TIMES.

Morvin Eubank and wife, of Clark county, were visiting relatives of the latter, near this place, the earlier part of the week.

J. W. Dawson, of Chilton, has been in this vicinity the past few days fox hunting. Mr. Dawson seems to be very fond of the sport. He has one very fast hound for which he has refused $25.

Russell Mountz and wife, of Vaughn's mill, was in town last Saturday buying household effects preparatory to house-keeping. They will occupy the former residence of W. A. Mountz, on Hardwick's Creek.

The telephone line will be extended from this place to Clay City as soon as the weather will permit. -Levee cor. Advocate.

epoone, and the present time seems an appropriate time to make an effort to bring about its establishment.

If we had an electric R. R. running from here to Mt. Sterling, by the way of Clay City, and a telephone line, there would be nothing to hinder Spout Spring from making a considerable town.

According to an order issued by the Commissioner of Pensions, all pensions will be paid by mail instead of in person.

KIMBREL - HAMILTON.

At the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. B. Kimbrel, on Wednesday morning at 10 a.m., Mr. Luther Hamilton and Miss Eliza Clay Kimbrel, were united in marriage in the presence of a large assembly of friends.

Mr. Mack Kimbrel and Miss Eliza Kennon, were the attendants. Rev. Shelby Todd, was the officiating minister.

Shortly after the ceremony the bridal party left for the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gravitt, in Clark county, where a reception was tendered them.

-Clay City Chronicle.

The store house and residence of James Snowden, near Waltersville, was burned last Tuesday night.

Many correspondents who have been writing letters to THE TIMES for publication, have failed to send in their communications early enough for printing. We desire to have a correspondent in every locality adjacent to Spout Spring, and will furnish the stationary necessary for this purpose. Correspondents should always send in their communications by Wednesday to insure its publication at the proper time, and should always sign their names to communications whether in-
